Featuring

David Genadek

Master Saddle Maker promoting excellence in horsemanship through knowledge

David Genadek, founder of About the Horse Inc., a premier saddle design and manufacturing company, builds both Western and English saddles and also designs and builds saddle trees. He incorporates the systems anatomy he has learned through Deb Bennett PhD in all his designs. In his saddle seats he applies the riding knowledge he has learned through Peggy Cummings, founder of Connected Riding.

In studying saddle fit David has become fascinated with the many ideas on the subject and has sought their origins. In the webinar he will show you the 5 models of saddle fit that have emerged throughout history and how they manifest themselves in today's saddle market. In addition to his saddle manufacturing business, David is a saddle fit clinician in the U.S. and Canada. The subject of feature articles in Horse & Rider and Western Horseman, David's goal is to continue educating others and himself in the complex process of fitting saddles to horses and their riders.
